Dear Community Partners:

RE: NHSIE HomeStart Program

Due to the overwhelming interest in Neighborhood Housing Services of the Inland Empire's HomeStart first time homebuyer down payment assistance program, NHSIE has received enough applications that will exhaust current funding for the program. Therefore, we will not be accepting any new applications until further notice. Any application for the HomeStart Program received (going forward and until further notice) will be returned. A specific date for program reinstatement is currently undecided and will be based on funding availability.

Persons interested in applying for a down payment assistance program may seek alternative Down Payment Assistance options through other NHSIE-administered or affiliated Down Payment Assistance Programs that are currently accepting applications. For example, please consider applying for the City of San Bernardino Mortgage Assistance Program, City of Banning Assistance Program and the City of Highland Assistance Program. For more information on these alternative programs you may contact NHSIE at (909) 884-6891 and sign up for an Orientation Class.

Best regards,
