

NHSIE Unpaid Internships

NHSIE is now accepting resumes for internships! Are you currently a college student, looking to gain college credit? Are you organized and task oriented? Then this is the job for you!

NHSIE gives you an opportunity to learn the inner workings of a non-profit community development organization, providing exposure to various housing programs and specific experience that can better prepare you along your career path.

We are seeking motivated students willing to contribute in the areas of data entry, administrative assisting, business development, government housing programs, research & analysis, marketing, public relations, and accounting assisting. We're looking for enthusiastic, outgoing and hard-working students who enjoy helping the community and are good at interacting with all kinds of people. NHSIE Interns typically work 10-25 hours per week.

Whether you are a current full-time, part-time, undergraduate, or graduate college student, if you require college credit for your courses and would like to gain valuable hands-on experience while fulfilling your educational requirements, this could be the opportunity you've been waiting for!

If this is something that interests you, then e-mail a cover letter and resume to Clarice@nhsie.org or contact our office at (909) 884-6891 for additional information.
